

The director of engineering at a company manufacturing automated dispensing systems has souped up a vintage 1970 Dodge Challenger with a nitrous oxide tank to add that extra "little boost". An IDEC SmartRelay is being used to control the nitrous oxide system (NOS).

